

ACROPOLIS RETURNS THIS WEEKEND WITH PIRELLI SCORPION KX TYRES

Milan, September 9, 2021 – The Acropolis rally gets underway this weekend, but with mixed conditions instead of the usual sunshine, as explained by Terenzio Testoni, rally activity manager: "It will be a really interesting and challenging rally. We will experience mixed conditions, with unexpectedly muddy and slippery surfaces on one hand, but on the other hand conditions more typical of the Acropolis Rally, featuring hard stages and plenty of abrasion. The entire tyre range that we have brought to Greece, based on the usual conditions that we can expect here, will face a tough test. Both the hard and the soft tyres are set to be pushed to the limit."
